A private offering for the Authority bonds to finance the project which the school board will decide to either accept or reject, will be received at a meeting of the Authority scheduled for Sept. 24. The meeting is expected to be held at the Pennsbury High School on that date.

In the event that the private offering is rejected the evening of Oct. 9, has been set by the Authority as the date at which public bids will be scheduled to be opened.

The low bids received last night were as follows: $475,600 for Proposal No. 1 (General Construction) including Alt. May Deputize School Janitors for Traffic

Bristol Township Commissioners Give Suggestions To Twp. School Board

Bristol Township School Board has been requested by the township commissioners to consider permitting janitors at some of the township school buildings to be deputized by the commissioners, so that the janitors might serve to guard intersections during hours when children are going to and coming from school, according to William Vetter, president of the township school board.

Vetter said that the board will consider "the feasibility of the action requested by the commissioners," and will determine how the janitors react toward the plan. Then, according to Vetter, the board will notify the commissioners "by next week" of whether the plans should be given further consideration.

The janitors of the schools at Croydon, Newportville, Laurel Bend and Edgely are the ones who are to be considered for deputization by the commissioners, according to Vetter. Primary school subjects are taught in all of the above schools, he said.

Township Board Gives "Go Ahead" On Bus Garage

Discuss Situation in Regard To Bids on John Fitch School at Session

Bristol Township School Board in a special meeting last night at Delhaas high school instructed Albert E. Micklewright to go ahead on the specifications for the six-bus garage which will be built on the Delhaas high school grounds, according to Clarence Young, board secretary.

The board also discussed the situation which had arisen because bids for the John Fitch School had come in "about $16,000 higher" than the state figure approved for the school.

Permission was granted to the Bucks County Safety Council, AAA, for use of the Delhaas High School Sept. 24. At that time the Council will meet to discuss traffic laws.

The Levittown Players were refused permission to use the building to stage their plays, according to Young. He said that the reason for the refusal was that there was an understanding by the board that the school could be used for "educational" purposes by any group interested. And he said the board felt that use by the Levittown Players would not constitute an educational purpose.

The garage for the school buses which has been previously estimated to cost in the neighborhood of $25,000 has been under consideration by the board for some time. The garage will house six buses of the school, and will provide cover for the buses which are presently left out in the weather, according to Young.

The board is concerned by the fact that the John Fitch bids came in higher than the state approved

Two Men Grab Fistfull of Payroll Checks As Contractor Pays Off Employees at Levittown; Pair Escapes With Third Man in Automobile

Approximately 18 checks for $1,000, made payable to employees of John Majewski, a tile contractor employed on the Levittown project, were grabbed off the seat of Majewski's car at about 8:30 this morning. Three men reportedly involved in the grabbing of the checks hurriedly left the scene in a yellow convertible, according to George Sottung, co-ordinator of Levittown Radio Police.

Payment has been stopped on all payroll checks drawn on the Majewski account, for the time being, it was announced at the Bristol Trust Company, the banking house where the checks are payable.

An alarm was flashed to all police in the area, and patrolmen started a careful check of highways and bridges leading out of the area.

Lowry Gets Life Term in Jail In Murder Case

Croydon Man Was Involved in Safe Food Hold-Up, May 19, 1950

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 12 — One of the trio of killers, Walter John Lowry, 39, Croydon, involved in a hold-up at the Croydon market of Safe Food on May 19, 1950, was sentenced yesterday by President Judge Hiram H. Keller, to life imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary. A $25 fine and costs was also imposed. David Sklar, president of Safe Food, was killed during the hold-up.

Lowry was convicted of first degree murder by a jury, December 15, 1951. Two other defendants, Martin Joseph Pearson and Harry Walter Chapasco, are now undergoing life imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for the same murder.

Lowry was driving the car in which the trio was riding when they decided to stage the hold-up of the store manager. Pearson fired the shot in a tussle with the manager, David Sklar, which resulted in the murder charges against the three. Lowry remained in the car.

Pearson, the first to be tried, was convicted of murder; but the jury recommended life imprisonment instead of the death penalty.

President Judge Keller refused a motion for a new trial for Lowry; and the sentence followed. When Judge Keller asked Lowry, who appeared unperturbed, if he had anything to say before he was sentenced, Lowry asked, "May I speak to my counsel?"

His counsel, Frederick Ely Smith, talked with him momentarily and remarked, "Nothing to say at this time."

Chief County Detective Fred H. Kohler, who investigated the murder; assistant Clarence Irwin; State Troopers, Andrew S. Kutney and Keith R. Dane, and Deputy Sheriff Melvin R. Myers flanked Lowry as he stood quietly before the bar.

A letter read from high school principal, David Hertzler, expressed appreciation for cooperation of the association last term.

Permission was granted for the Fathers' Ass'n to use necessary equipment in its work in the concessions during football games this season.

Mothers of any pupils and any other women, 18 years or over, are eligible for membership, and are invited to join at any meeting, it is announced.

STEVENSON ON THE DEFENSIVE

Governor Stevenson, who is one of the fast-talking city slickers ever to hit the political big time, is so smooth and glib that he has fairly well hidden the fact Eisenhower has driven him back on the defensive.

Yet that is the situation. Take a single point. For months President Truman and his cohorts have been able to dispose of the issue of high taxes on the simple thesis that "peace comes high."

Whenever they have been able to brush off financial discussions that easy, they have been able, of course, to devote their main attention to aggressive political activities.

Politics, you see, is a bit like football, with the initiative in politics taking the place of the ball — unless you have the ball in your team's possession, you can't score a touchdown, and politically, the team which is on the defensive has exceedingly little chance to win.

In the tax issue, however, General Eisenhower seized the initiative in his Philadelphia speech by the tactic of tying high taxes into the corruption at Washington. He said:

"The hide that the cost of this Washington mess is being taken out of your hide. It is being taken out of your hide in higher taxes."

Now, Stevenson, as an alert campaigner, knows quite well that he can't let that remark ride unchallenged. He knows too that its basic truth is self-evident — whatever the cronies and favorites at Washington have been stealing, misappropriating, wasting or losing, all has to be paid for by the American public. Be the sum large or small, that's where the cost falls.

What Stevenson did was to dress up in new language the shopworn Democratic answer that every last red cent which Washington handles is tied up somehow with the defense program, and if you were to slash it so much as a single dollar, you

Discuss Situation in Regard To Bids on John Fitch School at Session

Bristol Township School Board in a special meeting last night at Delhaas high school instructed Albert E. Micklewright to go ahead on the specifications for the six-bus garage which will be built on the Delhaas high school grounds, according to Clarence Young, board secretary.

The board also discussed the situation which had arisen because bids for the John Fitch School had come in "about $16,000 higher" than the state figure approved for the school.

Permission was granted to the Bucks County Safety Council, AAA, for use of the Delhaas High School Sept. 24. At that time the Council will meet to discuss traffic laws.

The Levittown Players were refused permission to use the building to stage their plays, according to Young. He said that the reason for the refusal was that there was an understanding by the board that the school could be used for "educational" purposes by any group interested. And he said the board felt that use by the Levittown Players would not constitute an educational purpose.

The garage for the school buses which has been previously estimated to cost in the neighborhood of $25,000 has been under consideration by the board for some time. The garage will house six buses of the school, and will provide cover for the buses which are presently left out in the weather, according to Young.

The board is concerned by the fact that the John Fitch bids came in higher than the state approved

Select Students' Song To Be Sung at Anniversary

BURLINGTON, N. J., Sept. 12 — A song written by a 25-year-old student of the Philadelphia Conservatory of Music will be heard in the choral and background music of the historical pageant to be presented during the 275th Anniversary Celebration of Burlington.

"O! Burlington," a folk tune reminiscent of the city's colonial beginnings, was selected yesterday by the pageant's music committee as the winner of a county-wide song writing competition.

The composer is John Robert Adams, of 475 Locust avenue, Burlington, who is studying arranging and the theory of music at the Conservatory under Dr. Vincent Persichetti, the celebrated composer.

Adams, who plans to make composing and teaching his career, recently played in the percussion section of the 7th Army Headquarters Band in Stuttgart, Germany, and studied at the EVCOM Band School at Dacau, Germany, before being discharged from military service.

The song will be played and sung in several acts during the pageant which re-enacts the significant episodes in Burlington's history. In the cast and choral group will be 750 Burlington residents in authentic period costume. The pageant will be presented on five evenings during Anniversary Week from September 27 to October 4.

Two Men Grab Fistfull of Payroll Checks As Contractor Pays Off Employees at Levittown; Pair Escapes With Third Man in Automobile

Approximately 18 checks for $1,000, made payable to employees of John Majewski, a tile contractor employed on the Levittown project, were grabbed off the seat of Majewski's car at about 8:30 this morning. Three men reportedly involved in the grabbing of the checks hurriedly left the scene in a yellow convertible, according to George Sottung, co-ordinator of Levittown Radio Police.

Payment has been stopped on all payroll checks drawn on the Majewski account, for the time being, it was announced at the Bristol Trust Company, the banking house where the checks are payable.

Majewski was paying his employees this morning at Levittown when three men, two of whom Majewski says, according to police, were his employees, reached into his car and grabbed the checks and fled. Identities of two of the men involved have been given to Levittown police by Majewski.

An alarm was flashed to all police in the area, and patrolmen started a careful check of highways and bridges leading out of the area.

Police say that the trio did not exhibit any weapons during the incident.

Lowry Gets Life Term in Jail In Murder Case

Croydon Man Was Involved in Safe Food Hold-Up, May 19, 1950

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 12 — One of the trio of killers, Walter John Lowry, 39, Croydon, involved in a hold-up at the Croydon market of Safe Food on May 19, 1950, was sentenced yesterday by President Judge Hiram H. Keller, to life imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary. A $25 fine and costs was also imposed. David Sklar, president of Safe Food, was killed during the hold-up.

Lowry was convicted of first degree murder by a jury, December 15, 1951. Two other defendants, Martin Joseph Pearson and Harry Walter Chasasco, are now undergoing life imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for the same murder.

Lowry was driving the car in which the trio was riding when they decided to stage the hold-up of the store manager. Pearson fired the shot in a tussle with the manager, David Sklar, which resulted in the murder charges against the three. Lowry remained in the car.

Pearson, the first to be tried, was convicted of murder; but the jury recommended life imprisonment instead of the death penalty.

President Judge Keller refused a motion for a new trial for Lowry; and the sentence followed. When Judge Keller asked Lowry, who appeared unperturbed, if he had anything to say before he was sentenced, Lowry asked, "May I speak to my counsel?"

His counsel, Frederick Ely Smith, talked with him momentarily and remarked, "Nothing to say at this time."

Chief County Detective Fred H. Kohler, who investigated the murder; assistant Clarence Irwin; State Troopers, Andrew S. Kutney and Keith R. Dane, and Deputy Sheriff Mellis R. Myers flanked Lowry as he stood quietly before the bar.

A letter read from high school principal, David Hertzler, expressed appreciation for cooperation of the association last term.

Permission was granted for the Fathers' Ass'n to use necessary equipment in its work in the concessions during football games this season.

Mothers of any pupils and any other women, 18 years or over, are eligible for membership, and are invited to join at any meeting, it is announced.

The unit donated $25 to the principal of each elementary school and high school, and to the two kindergarten teachers in Bristol for use in the teacher's rooms as they see fit.

Mrs. Walter Cooper was named chairman of the pinocle party to be held Sept. 24th in the cafeteria. She was also named sick committee chairman, members being asked to notify her of any members who may be stricken ill.

OFF THE RESERVATION

Nothing makes clearer the difference between today and yesterday than the radical change in policy as to the housing of military personnel. This is highlighted by Air Force announcement of a reduction in dormitory building programs at several air bases. The old style military establishment was a complete town in itself. Nearly everybody who served in uniform there, married as well as single officers and non-coms, lived on the reservation from the commanding officer on down. They pretty well had to. The big factors were transportation and communication. In the horse days and in the early auto days it wasn't possible for people to live at a distance from their stations. For a nation at peace, the military was little more than a police force anyway, in size and function. Officers and men lived to themselves in the traditional close-knit fashion, much in the pattern of an isolated college or industrial town. Nowadays the pattern is revolutionized. Cars and telephones, plus the ever-ready standby service of radio, enable a commanding officer to run a close-knit outfit even though some of the officers and non-coms live in a fairly wide radius from the base. A broad public interest is served in the greater flexibility and economy possible from the defense standpoint. A huge military program today may conceivably be cut back to a peace status again if real peace ever comes.

Henry Wallace seems to have been plowed under, in a political manner of speaking. That prehistoric creature found by Asiatic explorers whose skull weighs 500 pounds appears to have been a trifle thick-headed. Those who have one traffic accident usually have a second and a third. Unless the first one does the job, that is. Patient entering a California hospital was found to have $22,000 in cash in his pockets. Apparently he thought he would be required to stay three or four weeks.

OFF THE RESERVATION

Nothing makes clearer the difference between today and yesterday than the radical change in policy as to the housing of military personnel. This is highlighted by Air Force announcement of a reduction in dormitory building programs at several air bases.

The old style military establishment was a complete town in itself. Nearly everybody who served in uniform there, married as well as single officers and non-coms, lived on the reservation from the commanding officer on down.

They pretty well had to. The big factors were transportation and communication. In the horse days and in the early auto days it wasn't possible for people to live at a distance from their stations.

For a nation at peace, the military was little more than a police force anyway, in size and function. Officers and men lived to themselves in the traditional close-knit fashion, much in the pattern of an isolated college or industrial town.

Nowadays the pattern is revolutionized. Cars and telephones, plus the ever-ready standby service of radio, enable a commanding officer to run a close-knit outfit even though some of the officers and non-coms live in a fairly wide radius from the base.

A broad public interest is served in the greater flexibility and economy possible from the defense standpoint. A huge military program today may conceivably be cut back to a peace status again if real peace ever comes.

Henry Wallace seems to have been plowed under, in a political manner of speaking.

That prehistoric creature found by Asiatic explorers whose skull weighs 500 pounds appears to have been a trifle thick-headed.

Those who have one traffic accident usually have a second and a third. Unless the first one does the job, that is.

Patient entering a California hospital was found to have $22,000 in cash in his pockets. Apparently he thought he would be required to stay three or four weeks.

might look up from your breakfast coffee tomorrow to see Joe Stalin staring at you through the kitchen window.

What Stevenson had to say, in his San Francisco speech, was as follows:

"With 86 per cent of our budget allocated to defense, it is the Soviet Union which now fixes the level of our defense expenditures and thus our tax rates."

Of course, this is a wholly unsatisfactory reply.

To begin with, if that is the actual situation, then how much more criminal is the long-standing condoning of corruption, fraud, and misappropriation at Washington. How much more urgent is it to stop it summarily, not merely to punish the traitorous insiders who have been guilty, but to save the squandered resources which may be what is needed to turn the tide of international affairs in our behalf.

The statement is remarkable, however, in another respect—it is about the most abject confession of ineptitude and failure in all the long history of the world.

Seven years ago when there came to office the president upon whose record Governor Stevenson is running, this nation was at the peak of world influence and military power. We could set the music and call the tune. There was virtually nothing, within reason, that our national government couldn't have demanded as surety from the international trouble-makers to keep the peace.

That mighty military structure was frittered away. Desperate Democratic politicians, for obvious political reasons, hastened to disband the army. Tanks and airplanes were junked in foreign lands, sometimes summarily shoved into the ocean by bulldozers. Billions upon billions more were appropriated to keep up this military structure—and yet when the bell sounded, and the Korean episode summoned this military might to our needs, it was found to be largely nonexistent, and nobody till yet has been able to say just what became of the sixty to seventy billion dollars supposedly spent by the Truman Administration to keep the nation protected.

And now Adlai Stevenson, with all the brashness and flippancy he displays, has the incredible gall to tell 150,000,000 American citizens that Joseph Stalin, in the Kremlin, is dictating the nation's finances!

And in the next breath, instead of adjectly apologizing to the nation for belonging to a party with so fantastically forlorn a record, he has the effrontery to scorn the Republican Party which built this country to greatness in the first place, which paid off twice the gigantic costs of wars the Democrats produced, and today stands as the one slim and slender hope for the salvation of everything ten generations of Free Americans have believed in!

firm of Butcher and Sherrerd, Phila., financial advisors to the Authority.

This "rough" figure of $780,000 represents very nearly the total cost of the addition including $725,509 construction costs; a balance of $31,530.54 remaining in architect's fees; financing costs and legal fees expected to be approximately $10,000, and a contingency fund of approximately one and one-half percent which was recommended by the architect, and which will amount to approximately $10,000.

The figure previously approved by the state for construction was $755,560. This figure included architects fees. The school board expressed last night that it will not claim reimbursement of the $12,000 it previously paid the architect, Albert E. Micklewright, Fallsington. This means that the construction cost of the school including architects fees remaining to be paid will be in the neighborhood of $757,000. And the feeling was expressed that this final amount would receive state approval.

Specifications call for completion of the school in 300 calendar days. This would place completion of the school about a month before the opening of school for the fall term of 1953 if bonds are sold and contracts awarded by the Oct. 9 meeting.

The school board voted to request the Authority to add a 24 x 40 foot storage room to the Oxford Valley school which is presently under construction.

Micklewright told those present that the change in school site from that originally planned provided a slope in the area to be occupied by block "C" of the school. He said that taking advantage of the natural topography of the site at this point the Authority could have a storage room provided under that portion of the school "at lower cost than it can be done later on." Cost was given by Micklewright as $5087.

Grills and Jungle "Gyms" Appear in The Village

Decorative Items on Levittown Lawns Also Increase In Number

By Staff Reporter

LEVITTOWN, Sept. 12 — A variety of pieces of equipment (some not seen in this community before) have put in an appearance. On one rear lawn there is to be seen a metal grill (on wheels) complete with plastic cover. There will be a number of nice days for an outside meal between now and cold weather.

A jungle "gym" can be seen in one yard, and a metal standard supporting a couple of swings in another.

Lamp posts are spreading out through the village. At first they were only on Stonybrook Lane. Now the standards are to be seen on some of the lanes branching out from Stonybrook, such as Sunset, Silver Birch and others.

The decorative items on the lawns are also increasing in number. In front of one residence there are to be seen two large pink flamingos — nearly three feet high. Bits of color are appearing in the flowers — gladioli, geraniums, hydrangeas, zinnias, marigolds and petunias are to be seen.

Among the most noticeable trees are the willows — with graceful branches hanging toward the ground.

LEVITTOWN, Sept. 12 — Claiming distinction as the first family to move here from Croydon is the Terneson family at 31 Shade Tree Lane.

Edward and Lillian Terneson have a young son, Edward, Jr., 20 months old, who has just returned home from a stay in the hospital, where he had a hernia operation. He seems not to have been affected much by his visit there because the doctor permits him to participate in all activities of one his age.

Terneson is a station repairman for the telephone company. Although they had been living in Croydon recently, both are actually originally from Bristol, where they attended high school.

The family has a movie camera and spends a good bit of time taking movies as a hobby.

At the moment they have several ideas for using the small room off the living room. It will function as an extra bedroom, den and guest room.

SPORTSMEN'S BRIEFS

By Ollie Hobbs
(Pinch Hitting for Joe Elbertson)

The Long Beach Island 6th Annual Invitation Surf Fishing Tournament was held Sept. 6th and 7th. Thirty-two teams took part in this contest but only a very few fish were caught due to weather conditions. There were strong northeast winds which gave the fishermen a lot of trouble and made it hard to hold bottom. When you would cast your daisy out in the surf it washed up on shore before you could take in the slack line.

Only about eight of the teams caught fish and they only had one or two each, outside of the Atlantic City Tuna Club which caught 13 king fish to gain first place in the tournament. Atlantic City had a total of 125 points, 75 points for catching the 13 kings and 50 points for catching the most fish.

The Bristol Fish and Game Protective Association's team of "Ken" Brandau, Howard Baker, Albertus Gilbert, John Johnson, Norman Morris and myself did not score any points. I think we could have caught fish on Saturday, but we could not keep our bait man awake long enough to bait our hooks. He couldn't resist that 12 o'clock nap he is used to taking every day, but he sure worked hard when he was awake. All the Bristol boys fished hard and they never stopped fishing until the time was up. After the contest was over we landed one blue fish that weighed about 2½ pounds and a flounder that weighed about 2 pounds. However, these fish did not count in the contest.

After the fishing was over Saturday the teams were invited to the Long Beach Club House for dinner and we sure had a wonderful dinner. After the dinner they had music and a barn dance. The barn dance was put on by Albertus Gilbert of the Bristol Club. Albertus provided most of the entertainment with the help of Ken Brandau who led the Bristol Club in singing. Everyone enjoyed the tournament and said they would not like to miss the tournament next year. We had a lot of people from Bristol rooting for us but it did not help us catch fish.

One of our local sportsmen, William Bossler and his family spent a week down on the Hunza River in Maryland and "Bill" tells me they caught five nice striped bass and a lot of croakers. The Hunza is a well-known place for striped bass or rock fish which is the name commonly used for strippers down there. However, they do not get as big as the strippers do that are in the ocean. They also went over to the Chesapeake Bay and caught sea trout as fast as you could bait your hook.

Hunting started the first of Sept. for rail birds but I have had no reports from any of the local hunters. The tides and weather have been just right with the tides being above normal. There have been a few boats on the Jersey shore but I have not heard too much shooting over there.

I don't think we have too many birds around yet as the reed is not ripe and falling yet. The flight of birds should be on about the last of the month.

The woodcock season opens Oct. 15th and closes Nov. 14th. This means the season opens one week later this year, but that gives you until the middle of November to hunt for them. We might have a little cold weather by then and the foliage may dry up some so you can get a good shot at these little balls of lightning.

The running of dogs is about the main subject with the hunters now. I have been talking to a few of the boys who are running their dogs and they say they are finding the game more plentiful this year. The rabbit hounds seem to be having the most fun, but the bird hunters are finding birds which seem to be staying in close to the houses.

Don't forget you must have a license on your dogs to run or train them if they are over six months old.

Correction . . . In last week's column the shooting hours for ducks was wrong. The shooting hours are from one-half hour before sunrise to one hour before sunset.

1-lb Carp Wins Prize For 11-Year-Old Youth

Results of the fishing contest sponsored by Lucien R. Favatta, 426 Logan st., Sunday Sept. 7, at Bristol Memorial Park, with 26 boys fishing, are announced:

First prize, tackle box for Eugene Pone, age 11, for his 1 lb. carp; 2nd, nylon casting line, "Jimmy" Shusdy, age eight, for his 9 oz. carp; 3rd, casting plug, for "Bobby" Sabatini, age 10, for his 5 oz. carp; 4th prize, bait box, Anthony Roberts, age 11.

Anthony caught the first fish, a sunfish, 4 ozs. 5th prize, card of hooks, "Lenny" Puccio, age 13, the smallest fish.

Judging and weighing was carried out by Alex Greco and Carmen Valenti.

Last year's largest fish was a 14 oz. carp.

Bulldogs To Inaugurate 1952 "Grid" Campaign

MORRISVILLE, Sept. 12—Coach Gordon Davies and his Morrisville Bulldogs will inaugurate their 1952 gridiron campaign here tonight meeting Upper Moreland High on the Robert Morris field at 8.15 p. m.

Upper Moreland finished third in the Bux-Mont League last season and won the crown in 1949 and 1950.

Coach Davies and his assistants, Alex McDonald and Dick Lee, have a powerful combination in the backfield, most of the boys from last season being back.

At the quarterback post will be Charlie "Chuck" Galambos, 155-pound senior, who is adept at signal-calling and passing. For halfbacks, there are Denny Sullivan and Eddie Kohler. The latter won honors on the All-Lower Bucks County team last season. Also back at the halfback positions are Jerry Brunner and Dick Detrick.

Tommy Trout, who lugged the ball from the fullback post last season, will again be back. Trout, at 190 pounds, is expected to gain County honors this season.

For wingmen, Coach Davies has Richie Neuman and Howard Hoechst with Frank Garman coming in for alternate post. Frank Gater and Dave Talone may be the starting tackles with Jack Haston and Don Cappiello may be the starting guards with Tommy Rohner at center.

Others who may see action are: Charlie Lebergern, Frank Pease, Johnny Kostar, Don Phillips, Bob Hartshorn, Nick Marrazzo, Joe Ketter, Ronnie Paxson, Arvie Powell, George Greenwood, Hank Codd, Pat Keenan, Ned Cunn, Eddie Hoffman, Johnny Fellner, Harry Fredericks, Jack Phillips, George Woolley, Hughie Arnoldi, and Lou Hart.

HULMEVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Shemeley, of Union, N. J., were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Shemeley.

Their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Winslow, Bristol, are building a ranch-type house on Washington Lane, Bensalem twp.

John Moyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ned Moyer, has enrolled as a student at Millersville State Teachers College. John left last week to take up his studies.

Mr. Stephen M. Vandegrift is visiting Mr. and Mrs. William K. Heston, Furlong.

SPORTSMEN'S BRIEFS

By Ollie Hobbs
(Pinch Hitting for Joe Elbertson)

The Long Beach Island 6th Annual Invitation Surf Fishing Tournament was held Sept. 6th and 7th. Thirty-two teams took part in this contest but only a very few fish were caught due to weather conditions. There were strong northeast winds which gave the fishermen a lot of trouble and made it hard to hold bottom. When you would cast your dip net in the surf it washed up on shore before you could take in the slack line.

Only about eight of the teams caught fish and they only had one or two each, outside of the Atlantic City Tuna Club which caught 13 king fish to gain first place in the tournament. Atlantic City had a total of 125 points, 75 points for catching the 13 kings and 50 points for catching the most fish.

The Bristol Fish and Game Protective Association's team of "Ken" Brandau, Howard Baker, Albertus Gilbert, John Johnson, Norman Morris and myself did not score any points. I think we could have caught fish on Saturday, but we could not keep our bait man awake long enough to bait our hooks. He couldn't resist that 12 o'clock nap he is used to taking every day, but he sure worked hard when he was awake. All the Bristol boys fished hard and they never stopped fishing until the time was up. After the contest was over we landed one blue fish that weighed about 2 1/2 pounds and a flounder that weighed about 2 pounds. However, these fish did not count in the contest.

After the fishing was over Saturday the teams were invited to the Long Beach Club House for dinner and we sure had a wonderful dinner. After the dinner they had music and a barn dance. The barn dance was put on by Albertus Gilbert of the Bristol Club. Albertus provided most of the entertainment with the help of Ken Brandau who led the Bristol Club in singing. Everyone enjoyed the tournament and said they would not like to miss the tournament next year. We had a lot of people from Bristol rooting for us but it did not help us catch fish.

One of our local sportsmen, William Bossler and his family spent a week down on the Hunga River in Maryland and "Bill" tells me they caught five nice striped bass and a lot of croakers. The Hunga is a well-known place for striped bass or rock fish which is the name commonly used for strippers down there. However, they do not get as big as the strippers do that are in the ocean. They also went over to the Chesapeake Bay and caught sea trout as fast as you could bait your hook.

Hunting started the first of Sept. for rail birds but I have had no reports from any of the local hunters. The tides and weather have been just right with the tides being above normal. There have been a few boats on the Jersey shore but I have not heard too much shooting over there.

I don't think we have too many birds around yet as the reed is not ripe and falling yet. The flight of birds should be on about the last of the month.

The woodcock season opens Oct. 15th and closes Nov. 14th. This means the season opens one week later this year, but that gives you until the middle of November to hunt for them. We might have a little cold weather by then and the foliage may dry up some so you can get a good shot at these little balls of lightning.

The running of dogs is about the main subject with the hunters now. I have been talking to a few of the boys who are running their dogs and they say they are finding the game more plentiful this year. The rabbit hounds seem to be having the most fun, but the bird hunters are finding birds which seem to be staying in close to the houses.

Don't forget you must have a license on your dogs to run or train them if they are over six months old.

Correction . . . In last week's column the shooting hours for ducks was wrong. The shooting hours are from one-half hour before sunrise to one hour before sunset.
